Guys I have a question and hopefully some of you can shed some light on it.

I am an eToro user, it is the only place I've been able to purchase GME, but I am not happy that I am unable to DRS my shares and I would surely love to DRS them and f*ck the hedgies.

I have tried to create accounts on IBKR, Ameritrade, even Robinhood and others but they don't service in my home country.

So, searching the internet I found FTX and I can purchase there without problem but I don't know if I can DRS from there to computershare.

Does anyone here use FTX and has been able to DRS the shares with computershare?

I am trying to contact customer service now but thought it would be also good to post here and see if some people can help.
