Okok so I've realized we've won. The SHF wouldn't have gotten MSM to go to that extent unless they'd totally run out of options and the best part about it is that they fucking failed lmao.

They gave GameStop a shitload of publicity and the first thing anyone thinks of when they hear GameStop is reddit...

The reddit crowd seen straight through their bullshit ploy so anyone that caught interest from the MSM articles is gonna go straight to reddit and realize it was a bunch of bullshit.

Ryan Cohen is playing the biggest game of chicken with the media right now by releasing absolutely no information and the media jumped first and made fools out of themselves because they had nothing to work with lmao.

Honestly the longer RC waits to drop the bomb the better. I think the SHF were hoping he'd drop the bomb while prices were low so that they could manipulate the price down but I think RC is smarter than that, he's going to let them scramble and eventually when the price is at a dangerous level for the Hedgefuks he will drop the bomb and we all go to Valhalla hahahahaha
