350 thousand members on this sub and the last post was 2 months ago? Wtf!

The GME game is still in play and i am still holding 1 year and 3 months later!

This government generated Inflation that has hit the entire world is the way the government's of the world are uniting to try to get their money back that we have hidden in stocks and crypto. They are mad that we took their money they gave to us and didn't spend it on what they wanted us to spend it on and now they are shitting themselves with a lack of liquidity.

Keep holding until M0@SS and then find a way to hide your earnings. You took the risk, only you deserve the rewards.

May the 4th be with you all!
