I am late to the DRS game because I have been uncertain about it, but I finally decided it was the best option for my shares. This has been said a thousand times, but I think that DRS is the only way to guarantee that you get a dividend when Gamestop decides to do that. If you want to DRS but aren't sure how, just go to drsgme.org. That website gives straight forward directions for a lot of brokers as well as an explanation on what DRSing your shares does. I hope this reaches someone else who has been uncertain like I was. Have a great day!
