I can't post due to lack of karma on superst\*\*k. Someone do me the favor of doing it for me.

I see you talking about waiting for Ryan Cohen's next twat and the red skull flag. I think he actually already did it and I haven't seen them comment on it, or maybe it went unnoticed by me.

In his last twat on March 27, he posted: "I'm proud of the GameStop team. They rock. ■■■■■"

By putting the skull flag, next to the flame of fire that is red, I think that is what he wanted to do. Well, there is no red skull flag emoji.

Perhaps that is the mixture of the two emojis to do what is expected, the attack flag in the face of the non-surrender of their opponents.

I send greetings, I am a Mexican ape since January 2021.
