

Title: Dave Lauer mints giveaway NFTs on Polygon and cites incorrect cost as reason to not mint on Loopring. It's unfortunate he's misinformed about Loopring.

Dave I appreciate all of your work but can you PLEASE be better informed when it comes to Loopring and understand what you're working with here.

For 70,000 NFTs (all the same NFTs??) you could have minted those on Loopring for less than the cost of a CHEAP cup of coffee. I've done 20c mints before, for 1-10,000x of the same NFT. It's <$1 on a good day. At most these 70k NFTs would have cost you $7, at best $1.40.

You're actively building things on a network which has minimal-to-zero involvement with the GME/SS movement and expecting people who are hyped for the future of crypto to move to a network not involved in any of this?? I get the issue with wallets being expensive to setup has only recently changed, but that doesn't affect your ability to mint at all. GameStop itself is partnered with and actively BUILDING on top of Loopring, because it's the ecosystem to be using for these things, with a kickass marketplace days/weeks from launching.

This is a crucial part of the overall puzzle we're all working with here, please understand it well.
