With earnings and the shareholder meeting this week, funds might well try to pull some shenanigans. No need to make it easier for them by using stop losses. Funds can hunt stop losses and trigger them, causing a cascading downward effect. No need to assist them by using stop losses.

With over a billion dollars on hand and nearly a billion in inventory, GameStop is well positioned for the future, despite inflation and supply chain issues. Enjoy the shareholder meeting today and keep registering, it's working!
