Like many others, I have been frantically trying to get my 50 shares out of etoro into DRS asap. unfortunately ETORO are taking longer than ever to withdraw funds. Like myself, many are afraid to withdraw half of their stock incase they miss out on the big run happening. let me give the quickest solution and some tips.

1. set up a revolut account, this literally takes 10 minutes and dont need any post or any shit.
2. if you already have money in the etoro crypto wallet, you could simply transfer to binance and then withdraw to your revolut acccount, takes about 30 mins. you can then sell some gme and buy back whatever crypto to replace what you just took out (if that's what you like)

Important!!... if you dont already have money in the etoro crypto wallet, don't bother exchanging your gme for BTC and trying to send money from etoro to the etoro crypto wallet, the process waiting time is the same if not longer and youll get raped with etoro fees along the way.

3. now the saucy part... you are afraid to withdraw half of your gme and leave it in limbo for the week because youre afraid of the run. now you can utilize Etoros x2 leverage!. sell all your shares on etoro during midday market time (less volatile). withdraw half you money. now with the other half, buy the same amount of shares again with the remaining money, using 2x leverage. (you will still be holding the same amount of shares on paper while you wait for the money to arrive in revolut). ... money arrives, close your x2 position, hopefully price will have incresed and you will have actually increased your full shares .. if it drops, it doesnt matter, you still have the money you took out.

please follow this guide to DRS from revolut. ... if you do not have the SSN, fill in the SSN field with 999-99-9999 when you get the DRS form.
