

Title: Urvin Finance Advocacy + Documentaries Thoughts

Author: ObjectiveOperation70

Created 2022-03-04 19:57:11 UTC

Permalink: /r/GME/comments/t6rg57/urvin_finance_advocacy_documentaries_thoughts/

Url: https://www.reddit.com/r/GME/comments/t6rg57/urvin_finance_advocacy_documentaries_thoughts/

If anyone dislikes this I think they're missing the point. Dave isn't trying to get you to buy a product. He and his team, along with like minded organizations, are collating resources and tools (for what seems like free) so individuals can do what they want. I am an individual that has no ties to urvin finance and have come to my own conclusions about the above. I'm open to be shown otherwise.

Edit: Urvin/Terminal is a business. But I'm talking about the advocacy link/email just released. I am not speaking on the Terminal aspect.

I applaud Dave for putting this together. He puts his money where his mouth is when it comes to general investor advocacy.

While the latest documentaries about GameStop on Apple and HBO have sort of glossed over DRS I believe that it was on purpose. DRS, while important to GameStop (and arguably all stocks), is not what the two docs were about. Their aim was to inform the public about the nefarious activities financial institutions commit everyday, which we know GameStop holders have been victim to. Their overall focus is helping Americans (and others around the world) understand that their investments are victim to Wall Street through the lens of the GameStop story, all the while lending credence to what we have been yelling about for some time. So net positive for GameStop and net positive for individual investors.