

Title: Question - There are only supposed to be 76M shares registered, but there are millions (if not billions) in circulation. If someone like Fidelity files bankruptcy, could this wipe some short shares and then force individuals to use SIPC insurance up to $500k? Not FUD - looking for serious discussion

Author: TheLunarnautics

Created 2021-09-25 19:24:52 UTC

Permalink: /r/Autisticats/comments/pvdp92/question_there_are_only_supposed_to_be_76m_shares/

Url: <https://i.redd.it/do6mhskm8pp71.png>

