I want to diversify just in case.

Is it possible to put 1 share of DRS'd GME shares to another broker?

If so, will it be executed fast enough if I try to sell that share?

I am just trying to find a proper exit strategy.

I will hold as long as possible.

The hedges know we all use Computershare website to DRS and sell during the event.

I just don't want to miss an opportunity if the site goes down due to the volume of people trying to log in to the website.
