Apes with shares in brokers that will not DRS, such as **Etoro and T212 : think about selling and re-buying elsewhere!!** They don't have the shares anyway, so selling and re-buying hurts nothing! Please don't trust your millions to a broker that won't DRS! **Seriously, go read their TOS. They can force sell at will!!****
Great comment from u/mia6ix :

“Shorts aren't closing positions voluntarily, for one thing. Their whole plan was to never close, and they sure aren't doing it at $100 or even $50/share. For another thing, shares held in eToro aren't even traded on the real market. Their TOS makes that clear. Apes who “own” shares at these so-called brokers that won't allow them to DRS are stuck with a position that probably isn't even real, and will likely be force-liquidated at the first hint of rocket launch. If all those apes dumped these crappy brokers and re-bought shares on the open market AND DRSeD them, we'd have the float locked and some real buying pressure, finally.”
