So I called the Bristol office today and was told to call gamestop. The lady was taken back a bit sounded flustered and I asked her when did you stop trading she said in 2019 now its u.s only. I asked her why they stopped when there's a lot of people in the uk who want to buy from computer share. She then told me that yes you are right we get a lot of enquiries for this stock and we always redirect to the United States. I don't know why they stopped selling here when I asked for the computer share number She said I need to contact gamestop directly they will then advise me of how to go about buying the shares. I'm a xx holder since I think it was Jan or Feb last year so I'm breaking even right now. I want to sell on et0r0 and buy on compshare. If anyone has a email or can make it easier for uk apes that is welcome. Sorry about my grammar I'm a uni dropout I prefer business and making money and being a ape and helping people. I hope gme reaches life changing highs because there's too many people out there who need help.
