Let me preface with a captatio benevolentiae... I am as smooth as your wife's private parts when she's going to go on holiday with her boyfriend.

Couldn't the bad actors in this use this new marvelous instrument to package their shorts into an appealing box to be sold to retail so that MOASS is payed off by retail in the end?

If it was so we would assist to a huge marketing wave to sell them off and then, as the shorters get neutral or positive, they could allow MOASS to happen... Like they did in 2008 with their toxic assets.

Too smooth to try and demonstrate it, but from their devious bastard point of view it would be an elegant solution.
