The title says everything. The following text is unrelated, because this subreddit requires text here. Superstonk requires 300 characters. I don't have 300 characters to write, but I will write some nonsense to prevent being auto-deleted again. It's frustrating. I don't think 300 characters is necessary at all. Who wants to read a wall of text over a clear, concise, sufficient sentence? Now I have probably broken another rule because this text is the incorrect tone for the subreddit. Come on, just let me ask the question somewhere.
