Called customer service and the representative couldn't even find the chat history of when I initiated DRS....

I asked if it was normal for them to cancel and not get any account notifications or emails about them cancelling my DRS, he said it is "atypical"...

After 30 minutes it turns out that my DRS was cancelled because of an "excessive debit balance". Apparently 1 of the 12 GME shares I tried to DRS was not settled thus cancelling the entire DRS.

He said he couldn't DRS anything today because I bought some shares yesterday and everything needs to be settled in my account to DRS.

I don't get it, I have a lot of cash waiting to buy any more dips that is more than enough to cover any unsettled shares....

Anyways calling back in tomorrow to re-initiate, hopefully can get a purple ring with some moon tickets and join the rest of you apes soon. Ook ook!
