So this is a bit tin foil but I wanted to get this information down.

RC releasing a letter to the board of BBBY as of today.

RC Ventures LLC Letter

RC's buying must have occurred within the last 10 business days as per

This means if we see the subsequent update from BBBY he bought at some time during the last couple weeks. If we look back we can identify two possible buy in opportunities.

All three lows are actually good and he would only need to report once he had obtained beneficial ownership so it's possible he was buying the whole time.

Al large buying of this nature is what triggered the events in January, leading into the FTD pile-up. If you haven't read my Book of MOASS DD, this may help in understanding the relationship BBBY has to GME.

BBBY's share buyback announcement likely triggered our run on Nov.3rd as SHFs sought to clear out obligations as quickly as possible.

Here is some more data on BBBY

With the obvious connection to GME through many ETFs this buy in could absolutely act as a catalyst across the entire basket of stocks we have been tracking since early November.

This also lends credence to the idea that NSCC and OCC 001 were released on the OPEX date specifically to handle a high volatility situation from a possible member failure. While de-risking current members.

There are several avenues a failed fund can take to delay settlement but make no mistake settlement is due.

This could be a pretty wild week...
