BREAKING: GamersNexus to confront NewEgg at HQ over RMA scandal, hints at whistleblowers!

Gamers Nexus

3 minutes ago

We decided to book a flight to California to visit Newegg this week. Newegg was not a part of this decision. We will be there whether or not they show up to the meeting -- but we're flying across the country and will make it on time, so we hope they come out of their front doors. We have informed Newegg via email that we will be arriving at their doorstep with cameras and that this is the company's opportunity to have a discussion. We're just letting you all know in case they put PR spin out before we arrive. We will afford Newegg the opportunity to explain itself, but after seeing customer complaints and receiving insider emails this past week, we have decided it is best to take our questions to their doorstep. Thank you to our Patreon and GN Store supporters for making this type of journalism possible.
