Corsair Gaming, Inc. (NASDAQ:CRSR) markets gaming and streaming peripherals. Cramer gave the stock a Sell recommendation during the Discussed Stock segment of his show on May 3. He identified the shares as a "meme stock" and a "former market darling" that had become uninvestable due to the tightening policies of the central bank. He also underlined that there was "no fighting the Fed" and that the "Fed always won". He said the rise in interest rates was bad news for the bulls but good for the overall health of the economy.

On April 22, Stifel analyst Drew Crum kept a Buy rating on Corsair Gaming, Inc. (NASDAQ:CRSR) stock but lowered the price target to $24 from $29, citing a slowdown in consumer demand across Europe as one of the reasons behind the
