YOU MAY SOON LOSE YOUR ABILITY TO BUY LEVERAGED AND INVERSE FUNDS

A radical and unprecedented threat by regulators could affect your right to buy dozens of popular public investments, including leveraged and inverse funds.

You can help stop them.

MAKE YOUR VOICE HEARD

Under the regulations being considered by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), you may not be able to buy leveraged and inverse funds and dozens of other popular investments deemed to be complex unless you:

- Pass a regulator-imposed test of your specialized investment knowledge
- Demonstrate a high net worth
- · Get special approval from your broker
- Attest to reading certain materials
- Go through "cooling off periods" during which you can't invest
