My sense is that the reality of what is happening as a result of the stock split is that there is now a mad rush to DRS shares by all those who were on the fence about DRS or just procrastinating. All the shenanigans' by the DTCC and various brokerages around the world that have treated the stock dividend as a stock split and have failed to deliver shares to their rightful owners has created a sense of urgency to DRS.

Apes around the world are realizing now that there is truly a limited supply of shares and if you don't DRS you are going to be left without real shares of GME. I think Cohen and the GME board realized that this was the best way to force the DRS issue. This is the only share recall that matters or that will ever happen. If you are holding GME share outside of Computershare you do so at your own risk.

If your shares are sitting safely on Computershare, Congratulations, you are the owner of one of the most valuable equity securities in the history of the world! If you have not DRSd your shares, I am not sure if you own anything at all. You will likely only be able to ever realize value from your holdings at the end of what will end up being a massive class action lawsuit. Unfortunately, the only true winners of that lawsuit will likely be the attorneys.

Don't mess around with this, DRS ASAP!
