- 2. Many HF are long GME and buying these calls
- The call ratio is high because we are in a forced covering period but they have been building this gamma ramp for weeks, I have tracked it in my daily and weekly DD
- Delta hedging on calls is not done with puts but with buying shares or creation depending on liquidity of the underlying.
- While Citadel does reroute pfof the amount of shares bought by retail daily is minimal less than 5%, 90% of orders routed through pools are legitimate institutional orders. Lauer weighed in on this as well not long ago.
- Apes hyped the last date (6/9) and the share offering and subsequent ETF rebalancing tanked the price there was shorting but it was not nearly as strong as the 7million shares sold institutionally.

- No issue with this point, it's misleading, but they definitely attempt to profit off the stock movement. But it's also basic knowledge that HFs make money on both sides of a trade.
- 8. There is zero evidence that they are making money here. They have a compounding loss carried over 3 quarters now and evidence suggests multiple years. The claim here that they can sustain the position because apes buy options is absurd they have
