And you could be to if you have any of that old coursework lying around. It's not hard to see that we all come from different walks of life here, if you are a college student or were one during the last 2 years I'm sure you have plenty of PDFs from classes that were forced to go entirely online, that stuff is worth at least some money on Studocu. This may be helpful for any GME students that are struggling like myself right now! We gon' lock that float! DRS GME!
