Title: Long term, this crypto sell off should be good for Gamestop
Author: Vudu702
Created 2022-06-18 13:27:39 UTC
Permalink: /r/GME/comments/vf68ri/long_term_this_crypto_sell_off_should_be_good_for/
Url: https://www.reddit.com/r/GME/comments/vf68ri/long_term_this_crypto_sell_off_should_be_good_for/

The crypto market is TANKING! Some people are panicking, and that's to be expected. But did anyone think about what this is going to do to our beloved Gamestops crypto NFT marketplace?

I think very short term, it's not great for us. This crash has scared a whole lot of people away from crypto and especially NFTs, which people honestly already don't seem to understand. This very well could limit a lot of the potential upside that we could see once the marketplace is launched compared to if it was done in a bull market. But that's OK, no one should panic!

We will still see a lot of excitement once the marketplace is live from fellow APES and just general crypto enthusiasts who have been around for a while and know everything will be OK eventually.

What this does do though, is give our company time to work out some bugs that are to be expected from a brand new retail marketplace. I also believe that when people do come back around to wanting to be in crypto, a lot more people will come to the Gamestop marketplace because it's a known trusted name and could be a great place for newbies and returning investors to start. By then, the hype will be everywhere as to what its all about and I think it will give people the confidence they need to jump in.
Also, with prices much lower, that could be a good attractant for these people too.

Don't panic, we, and our company will be just fine, and this will give it some time to mature and be exactly what people are looking for when learning what NFT's are all about. I am quite sure that this marketplace is going to change the game, and now we have been given a little extra time to help make it the best! Make sure we all do OUR part!

■■■■■■■■■ See you all on Uranus!